ONE HUNDRED MILLION FOR AVIATION

RECOMMENDED BY THE HOUSE SINGLE DEFENSE HEAD URGED

The Report Recommends that the Air Force to Have Not Only Equal Status With Land and Sea, But to Get New Privileges, Separate Budget For All Aviation Activities and a Bureau of Civil Aeronautics In the Department of Commerce.

Drastic reorganization of the national defense administration and the expenditure of $20,000,000 annually for the next five years to build up aviation were recommended Thursday in a report agreed upon by the special house aircraft committee at Washington.

The report in recommending, among other things, creation of a bureau of civil aeronautics, advanced a proposal also placed before congress from another source—the annual report of the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

President Coolidge, in a letter accompanying the advisory committee's report, declared a statement by the committee that "America is at least abreast of other progressive nations in the technical development of air craft for military purposes" should dispel the impression that this country is lagging in this respect.

The house committee proposed creation of a department of national defense which would supplant the present war and navy departments, but would not necessarily give aviation a co-equal status with land and sea armaments. Its recommendations were concurred in by all members, but Representative Reid, Republican Illinois court-martial counsel for Col. William Mitchell, will file a supplementary brief advocating a unified air service.

Need for development of commercial aviation, urged by both the house committee and the national advisory committee, was further stressed during the day by the introduction of a bill by Chairman Parker of the house commerce committee, based on similar recommendations made by the president's special aid board.

Other committee recommendations include:

A separate budget for all aviation activities.

A bureau of civil aeronautics in the department of commerce.

One procurement agency for all air activities.

Increased representation for the air services on the army general staff and the navy general board.

Government aid in the establishment of airports.

Survey of all airplanes now in use and destruction of those found unsafe.

Creation and maintenance of an adequate air reserve.

Increased promotion opportunities for air officers and pay commensurate with the hazards of their work. The report also recommends that experimental and development work now done at the naval aircraft factory at Philadelphia and at McCook field, Dayton, be transferred as far as possible to the bureau of standards. It does not, however, ask for the closing of the factory or of the McCook field work. Legislation is recommended to provide a way for inventors in the aircraft industry to secure redress for infringing patents other than in the court of claims.

The army and navy are accused in the report of failure to give proper recognition to aviation as a factor in the national defense.

Tracing Age of Man

Efforts to fix the date of the first appearance of man on earth have proved futile. We can only fall back upon the methods used in geology. Man as we find him now first appeared in the concluding phase of the Pleistocene period as the artist of the caves at a time when the British Isles formed part of the continent of Europe.

THE GROWING OF VEGETABLES IS PROFITABLE

Association to be Formed Thru Farm Bureau and Chamber of Commerce.

The nucleus of The Pickaway County Vegetable Growers' association formed Thursday evening at the Farm bureau headquarters. Following addresses, a temporary organization was formed with John D. Bragg, as temporary president, and Russell Palm, as temporary secretary. Fifty members were present to see the new child born, fathered by the Farm bureau and the Chamber of Commerce.

The real father of the movement is Walter J. Marion, who has had the bee in his bonnet for a long time. Ed Sensenbrenner and John D. Bragg kept feeding the animal, and finally, Mr. Marion told the assemblage of fifty farmers what is in it for them. He said, you have everything to gain and very little to lose in raising vegetables for foreign markets. You have the location and ground and you can raise and ship to territory that feeds from five to ten million people.

Your products can leave here at sundown and be on the breakfast table next morning. It is my personal opinion that easy money is lying at your doors, and it's a chance that we, as farmers, ought to grasp. Now is the time to get on the band wagon. Farmers down Marietta way have been riding the same wagon for the past five years. They are cabbage raisers and 500 of them are engaged in growing this delicacy. In season, an average of 22 earloads are shipped daily. You can't buy land there for less than a thousand dollars an acre, but your ground is just as good, if not better for vegetable cultivation.

In order to get this thing started right, growers must buy seed of one strain, so that in shipping the vegetables, there would be one standard grade.

Professor McBride, of the rural economics department of the O. S. U. of Columbus, also made an address and gave some few pertinent points on organization of Vegetable Growers association. He told what they did in Erie county, New York and other sections. It's not a pink tea proposition and you must expect some setbacks. It is a chance that you will succeed in your undertaking, but reverses occur in all lines of business.

William Fisher gave his experience in marketing Golden Bantam corn and told how he came out. Standard containers and standard grading are some of the things you run up against said Mr. Fisher.

The farmers present agreed to start the thing going by each agreeing to raise from three to five acres of vegetables, chiefly early sweet corn. One hundred and seven acres was promised.

The temporary president was authorized to name a committee of five to arrange a constitution and by-laws and have everything ready at the next meeting to be held Thursday evening, December 18, when a permanent organization will be formed. The meeting will be held at the Farm Bureau office at 7:30 o'clock.

Husband of Woman Held Pending Investigation of Cutting—Wounds Serious.

Columbus, Dec. 10.—A man and woman are in a critical condition at Mercy Hospital as a result of a cutting scrape early this morning and another man, husband of the wounded woman, is held at city prison pending investigation of the affair.

Mrs. Thelma Ennemoser, the wife, is suffering from several knife wounds in the back and Clifford Six, 18, who was with her when they were attacked, has a wound over the right lung, two wounds on his face and four on his arm. He also has lost a thumb.

Mrs. Ennemoser, she told police, was with Six in the latter's back yard when they were attacked by a man, whom, she told police, she believed to be her husband.

Ennemoser, who was captured shortly after the affair, told police he was visiting his aunt, Mrs. Ella Morelock, 202 McDowell street, when the cutting took place. Mrs. Morelock, police say, denied that Ennemoser was at her home during the evening.

Mrs. Ennemoser and Six were taken to the hospital. Hospital attaches said the two were in a serious condition.

STUDY AFRICA
MONDAY CLUB
HAD MEETING

Splendid Program in Charge of Mrs. Howard Jones, Chairman of Division.

Another African history program was enjoyed by the members of the Monday club on the evening of December 7, with Mrs. Howard Jones, chairman of the history division in charge of the study period. In her brief talk introducing the subject of her work Mrs. Jones called attention to a very attractive map of Africa, which had been drawn and presented by a pupil of Miss Jeannette Reichelderfer, a teacher in the Pickaway township schools, who belongs to the history section of the club.

The first number on the program was a splendid paper written and read by Miss Elizabeth Renick, her subject being the Missionary Explorer, David Livingstone. The influence of his Highland ancestry was apparent in all of Livingstone's great accomplishments. Without the indomitable courage that this ancestry gave him, his heritage of thrift that made the most of everything, his devotion to duty and the fear of God, it would have been impossible for this man, or any man, to have gone thru the hardships and accomplished the work that Livingstone did. Pausing at one place in her reading Miss Renick remarked that the most impressive scene she ever saw on the stage was a representation of the meeting of the two explorers, Livingston and Stanley. Miss Renick, who has traveled extensively in foreign countries, added to the charm of her paper by giving some reminiscences of her journeyings.

Under the general subject of Exploitation of Africa by Modern Nations Mrs. D. V. Courtright then told of the part that Belgium has played in what the writer termed "a remarkable territorial expansion, an expansion with imperialistic tendencies." Mrs. Courtright proceeded to show that the acquisition by Belgium of territory in Africa was really for the personal aggrandizement and benefit of King Leopold II. Emigration from European countries was assuming alarming proportions, and the European governments became anxious to keep this moving population under their own flags and their own control. Leopold, notwithstanding criticism, asserted that he founded the Congo Free State in the interests of civilization and the good of Belgium. He abolished the slave trade, prohibited the sale of liquor and started work on the cure for sleeping sickness. Mrs. Courtright's paper was very interesting thruout.

The topic, the Exploitation of Africa, was discussed by Mrs. Charles T. Gilmore in a paper brimming over with most interesting facts in regard to the topography, products and people of the large area that France controls in the dark continent. Mrs. Gilmore took up her topic under separate heads, as "West Africa," "Tangier," "Morocco," etc., the whole forming a very complete compendium of the natural resources and products of the French colonies. The character of the people of Morocco was well demonstrated by an amusing proverb which runs thus: "It is better to walk than run; better to stand still than walk; better to lie down than to stand; better to close the eyes than to keep them open." Therefore the Moroccans acting upon this popular old saying, are never in a hurry.

Mrs. Charles May followed with a paper filled with information as to Germany's territorial expansion in Africa, which adhered closely to Germany's general plan for acquisition of territory. We find that in 1910 the German Empire had four pieces of land in Africa; she proposed to begin a conquest of those territories which separated her fragments, in order to form some day that Central German Africa of a single piece, that Middle Africa which was to be the monstrous counterpart of Middle Europe. To one not acquainted with the policy of Germany Mrs. May's paper would come as an eye opener, and to those familiar with the subject it would serve as a forceful reminder of some points which they might otherwise have forgotten. She brought out very clearly that with the German Empire it was "Grab when you can and where you can," and also that each of her colonies was, in fact, a little Prussia.

The business meeting which followed the program, with the president, Mrs. Ritz, again in the chair, was devoted to various club activities, among them being the conservation of the natural resources of our state. Among the other points to which the club's attention was called was the following:

Outdoor Good Manners.

Mrs. Francis Whitley, chairman of forestry, is conducting a national campaign of outdoor etiquette. She would teach the public that it is just as much a breach of good manners to destroy a lot owner's flowers, shrubbery and trees or in any way destroy his properties, or leave a dirty camp or a smoldering fire, as it is to enter a friend's home and do the same. We must remember that whenever we step onto a private ground we are guests and should conduct ourselves as such. Please carry this thought into your communities by means of word of mouth, placards, signs, etc.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

A number of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Goeller gathered at their home Tuesday evening and celebrated the thirty-sixth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Goeller. The affair was in the nature of a surprise.

Mrs. G. R. Gardner entertained the Sewing club with a luncheon at her home in Ashville today.

A group of men from the Central Ohio Paper Co., touring their way to Florida, stopped in Circleville and entertained the Ferris Stationery Co., and the following guests with a 11 o'clock dinner at the New American hotel Thursday: Mr. Herbert Thorpe, Mr. Charles Rason, Mr. Kenneth Woods, Mr. William Walker and Mr. Fred Rice of the Central Ohio Paper Co., Miss Friel and Mr. Joe Black of the Central Tablet Manufacturing Co., Mr. Simon Topolosky of the Circleville Fruit Co., Mr. Max Friedman of Circleville; Mr. Abe Suwalsky, manager of the Ferris Stationery Co., Miss Inez Topolosky and Katherine Hegele of Circleville and Miss Mildred Grimes of Columbus.

Children and Careers

"Children are not a handicap but an urge—that is, if a woman has a fair share of the maternal instinct, which I think most women have. Out of my own experience I can sincerely say that to my daughters I owe whatever of success I have had. Indeed they kept me from being a complete failure. And this has been so from the first day I stepped out from a sheltered home to earn my own living and theirs as well—Genevieve Parkhurst, in Hearst's International-Cosmopolitan.

HARTMAN THEATER.

The inimitable Duncan Sisters, those incomparable comedienne who have swept the country with a gale of laughter in their whimsical musical version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which they call "Topsy and Eva" will be the attraction at the Hartman theater Columbus, for the entire week beginning next Monday, December 14.

They come after long runs in New York, Boston and sixty weeks in Chicago. Their vehicle was written for them by Catherine Chisholm Cushing, the songs composed by the Duncan sisters and sung with a charm and vivacity that is unique in the history of the Hartman theater.

The beautiful and gifted Duncan girls have surrounded themselves with beauty and melodious voices to form a background for their entertaining gymhana. With them are show girls of exceptional voice and statuesque beauty, a program of specialty entertainers and Tiller's famous London Palace theater girls, who as steppers in get-ups reminiscent of our old time plantation pickaninnies, are one of the fastest and most intriguing dance numbers before the footlights today.

"Topsy and Eva" is a clean, wholesome show, beloved of young and old. In it the Duncan sisters have made the old time pathetic story of Topsy and Eva a modern, exquisite and harmonious tale of fun, frolic and just a touch of tenderness here and there and lots of laughs.

Prominent players who will be seen in support of the Duncan Sisters are Vernon Rickard, Antonette Boots William Gordon, Edmund Fitzpatrick, Hal Sands, Myrtle Ferguson, Helen Reed, Dan Brennan, Bert Keyes, Jessie Bell, Isabel Kohr and Marguerite Bell.

The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

AMUSEMENTS

There is a remarkably well balanced bill at the Met theater headed by Elinor Glyn's production, "The Only Thing," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

There was a time when only one thing mattered in the making of pictures. That was grinding a certain number of them out each week. Now that we are educated up to pictures we have reached the critical stage where five things are poignant; the cast, the story, direction, photography and sets. "The Only Thing" registered one hundred per cent in all five.

The story is one of Elinor Glyn's best and was written by her directly for the screen. It has all the elements necessary to a good screen play. Deeply emotional scenes quickly followed by subtle comedy touches. Balancing all the way like a tree in the spring-time.

Portrayals Flawless.

The cast is headed by Eleanor Boardman and Conrad Nagel. They were perfectly chosen and Miss Boardman as the princess is beautiful and proves her right to be called one of the greatest dramatic actresses on the screen. There is a grace and charm and dignity about her that gives a realism to this role.

Jack Conway has turned out a masterpiece in direction and Chester Lyon's photography will not soon be forgotten. The lights and shades are played with by a master craftsman and Lyons has indelibly registered.

Cedric Gibbons' sets are unusual and massive and bring something new in this line to the screen.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE
Taken Direct From Wires By Correspondents of the United States Press Association.
(United Press)
Cleveland — The grand champion Hereford steer, exhibited by Raymond Leffler, Clarksville, Indiana, brought the highest price ever paid for beef on the hoof when it was sold at auction here Thursday for $3.05 per pound. The animal weighs 1,310 pounds and was bought by the Hughes Provision company of Cleveland. The price beats that paid at the International Live Stock Show at five cents a pound.

Dayton—There will be speedy action in the cases of Russell Swihart, 24 and Paul Defendorfer, 16, who yesterday held up the Farmers bank at Trotwood for $1,248. They were arrested in Dayton forty minutes after the robbery and confessed, Swihart admitting that he engineered the robbery. Only $447 was recovered. The boys say the police got all they had and seemingly cannot account for the missing money.
A grand jury will be called into session Monday to pass on the cases.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETING

A report from the membership committee of the local post of the American Legion at the regular meeting last evening was submitted and as returns from all the men has not been made, and the report not complete, the legion feels quite proud of the fact that twenty-eight paid up memberships had been received by those reporting, for the coming year. This drive by the legion is nationwide as the new commander of the legion has particularly expressed his desire for it. Karl Hermann is in charge of one group and Adjutant William Cady of the other and the side bringing in the most paid up members to the Legion by the first of the year will be treated to a dinner at the expense of the losing side.
Christian Schwarz, as chairman of the committee in charge of the Community Christmas Tree reports very favorable returns have been received by the solicitors and that the affair this year will be as successful as it has been in the past. Edward Ebert, Lawrence Johnson and George Mast are the other members of this committee.

In order to induce the school children of the county to compete in the National Essay Contest which is sponsored by the American Legion, the local post has appointed a committee composed of Mack Parrett, chairman, Karl Hermann and John Bolender to visit the school superintendents for this purpose and have also offered three prizes in the sum of $30 to be given to the three writers of the best essays within the county. The committee reported having visited both the city and county superintendents and have their hearty support in this matter. The National prizes are of the amounts of $750, $500 and $250.

A GOOD GAME WAS LOST BY SINGLE SCORE

Rochester Clothiers Defeated
Circleville Athletic Team at The Gym.

Oh, Boy! What a game was the general remark heard after the game
Thursday night at the C. A. C. gym when the Rochester Clothiers nosed out the locals by one point.

It was one of these games that kept the fans on the edge of their seats thruout. One thrill followed the other and it was anybody's game until the last whistle and time alone told the story as the score shifted every minute first one team than the other being in the lead.

At the end of the first half the score stood 13 to 11 favoring the club boys.
For some unaccountable reason the club's defense weakened slightly in the early minutes of the second frame allowing the visitors a small lead which the boys found impossible to overcome. It was a very interesting game and we will have to give the club boys the edge on the floor game even tho they lost by one point.

Next Thursday the opponents will be the Reichenbach Ford's another fast Columbus team which will give us a run for our money.

ONE HUNDRED MILLION FOR AVIATION

RECOMMENDED BY THE HOUSE SINGLE DEFENSE HEAD URGED

The Report Recommends that the Air Force to Have Not Only Equal Status With Land and Sea, But to Get New Privileges, Separate Budget For All Aviation Activities and a Bureau of Civil Aeronautics In the Department of Commerce.

Drastic reorganization of the national defense administration and the expenditure of $20,000,000 annually for the next five years to build up aviation were recommended Thursday in a report agreed upon by the special house aircraft committee at Washington.

The report in recommending, among other things, creation of a bureau of civil aeronautics, advanced a proposal also placed before congress from another source—the annual report of the national advisory committee for aeronautics.

President Coolidge, in a letter accompanying the advisory committee's report, declared a statement by the committee that "America is at least abreast of other progressive nations in the technical development of air craft for military purposes" should dispel the impression that this country is lagging in this respect.

The house committee proposed creation of a department of national defense which would supplant the present war and navy departments, but would not necessarily give aviation a co-equal status with land and sea armaments. Its recommendations were concurred in by all members, but Representative Reid, Republican Illinois court-martial counsel for Col. William Mitchell, will file a supplementary brief advocating a unified air service.

Need for development of commercial aviation, urged by both the house committee and the national advisory committee, was further stressed during the day by the introduction of a bill by Chairman Parker of the house commerce committee, based on similar recommendations made by the president's special aid board.

Other committee recommendations include:

A separate budget for all aviation activities.

A bureau of civil aeronautics in the department of commerce.

One procurement agency for all air activities.

Increased representation for the air services on the army general staff and the navy general board.

Government aid in the establishment of airways and airports.

Survey of all airplanes now in use and destruction of those found unsafe.

Creation and maintenance of an adequate air reserve.

Increased promotion opportunities for air officers and pay commensurate with the hazards of their work. The report also recommends that experimental and development work now done at the naval aircraft factory at Philadelphia and at McCook field, Dayton, be transferred as far as possible to the bureau of standards. It does not, however, ask for the closing of the factory or of the McCook field work. Legislation is recommended to provide a way for inventors in the aircraft industry to secure redress for infringed patents other than in the court of claims.

The army and navy are accused in the report of failure to give proper recognition to aviation as a factor in the national defense.

Tracing Age of Man

Efforts to fix the date of the first appearance of man on earth have proved futile. We can only fall back upon the methods used in geology. Man as we find him now first appeared in the concluding phase of the Pleistocene period as the artist of the caves at a time when the British Isles formed part of the continent of Europe.

THE GROWING OF VEGETABLES IS PROFITABLE

Association to be Formed Thru Farm Bureau and Chamber of Commerce.

The nucleus of The Pickaway County Vegetable Growers' association formed Thursday evening at the Farm bureau headquarters. Following addresses, a temporary organization was formed with John D. Bragg, as temporary president, and Russell Palm, as temporary secretary. Fifty members were present to see the new child born, fathered by the Farm bureau and the Chamber of Commerce.

The real father of the movement is Walter J. Marion, who has had the bee in his bonnet for a long time. Ed Sensenbrenner and John D. Bragg kept feeding the animal, and finally, Mr. Marion told the assemblage of fifty farmers what is in it for them. He said, you have everything to gain and very little to lose in raising vegetables for foreign markets. You have the location and ground and you can raise and ship to territory that feeds from five to ten million people.

Your products can leave here at sundown and be on the breakfast table next morning. It is my personal opinion that easy money is lying at your doors, and it's a chance that we, as farmers, ought to grasp. Now is the time to get on the band wagon. Farmers down Marietta way have been riding the same wagon for the past five years. They are cabbage raisers and 500 of them are engaged in growing this delicacy. In season, an average of 22 carloads are shipped daily. You can't buy land there for less than a thousand dollars an acre, but your ground is just as good, if not better for vegetable cultivation.

In order to get this thing started right, growers must buy seed of one strain, so that in shipping the vegetables, there would be one standard grade.

Professor McBride, of the rural economics department of the O. S. U. of Columbus, also made an address and gave some few pertinent points on organization of Vegetable Growers association. He told what they did in Erie county, New York and other sections. It's not a pink tea proposition and you must expect some setbacks. It is a chance that you will succeed in your undertaking, but reverses occur in all lines of business.

William Fisher gave his experience in marketing Golden Bantam corn and told how he came out. Standard containers and standard grading are some of the things you run up against said Mr. Fisher.

The farmers present agreed to start the thing going by each agreeing to raise from three to five acres of vegetables, chiefly early sweet corn. One hundred and seven acres was promised.

The temporary president was authorized to name a committee of five to arrange a constitution and by-laws and have everything ready at the next meeting to be held Thursday evening, December 18, when a permanent organization will be formed. The meeting will be held at the Farm Bureau office at 7:30 o'clock.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS.

The Modern Woodmen of America and their auxiliary organization, The Royal Neighbors, have leased the third story of the Parrett building, formerly occupied by the fraternal order of Eagles on West Main street and will occupy the rooms as lodge headquarters.

YOUNG WIFE AND MAN VICTIMS OF STABBER

Husband of Woman Held Pending Investigation of Cutting—Wounds Serious.

Columbus, Dec. 10.—A man and woman are in a critical condition at Mercy Hospital as a result of a cutting scrape early this morning and another man, husband of the wounded woman, is held at city prison pending investigation of the affair.

Mrs. Thelma Ennemoser, the wife, is suffering from several knife wounds in the back and Clifford Six, 18, who was with her when they were attacked, has a wound over the right lung, two wounds on his face and four on his arm. He also has lost a thumb.

Mrs. Ennemoser, she told police, was with Six in the latter's back yard when they were attacked by a man, whom, she told police, she believed to be her husband.

Ennemoser, who was captured shortly after the affair, told police he was visiting his aunt, Mrs. Ella Morelock, 202 McDowell street, when the cutting took place. Mrs. Morelock, police say, denied that Ennemoser was at her home during the evening.

Mrs. Ennemoser and Six were taken to the hospital. Hospital attaches said the two were in a serious condition.

The time is passed when the measure of the value of a memorial is quantity. I hope the time has come when that measure is quality. I care not whether the material be marble or granite, its future will be measured by the character of the design. It is quality that has preserved for us the finest examples in painting and sculpture. It is quality that will stamp our imprint upon cemeteries of the future. Simplicity, correct lines and proportions and proper ornamentation are the real fundamentals. A design that is right, material that is lasting and perfect workmanship, spells success for the future of this industry and the beautification of the cemetery. STUDY AFRICA
HAD MEETING

Splendid Program in Charge of Mrs. Howard Jones,
Chairman of Division.

Another African history program was enjoyed by the members of the Monday club on the evening of December 7, with Mrs. Howard Jones, chairman of the history division in charge of the study period. In her brief talk introducing the subject of her work Mrs. Jones called attention to a very attractive map of Africa, which had been drawn and presented by a pupil of Miss Jeannette Reichelderfer, a teacher in the Pickaway township schools, who belongs to the history club.

The first number on the program was a splendid paper written and read by Miss Elizabeth Renick, her subject being the Missionary Explorer, David Livingstone. The influence of his high land ancestry was apparent in all of Livingstone's great accomplishments. Without the indomitable courage that this ancestry gave him, his heritage of thrift that made the most of everything, his devotion to duty and the fear of God, it would have been impossible for this man, or any man, to have gone thru the hardships and accomplished the work that Livingstone did. Pausing at one place in her reading Miss Renick remarked that the most impressive scene she ever saw on the stage was a representation of the meeting of the two explorers, Livingston and Stanley. Miss Renick, who has traveled extensively in foreign countries, added to the charm of her paper by giving some reminiscences of her journeyings.

Under the general subject of Exploitation of Africa by Modern Nations Mrs. D. V. Courtright then told of the part that Belgium has played in what the writer termed "a remarkable territorial expansion, an expansion with imperialistic tendencies." Mrs. Courtright proceeded to show that the acquisition by Belgium of territory in Africa was really for the personal aggrandizement and benefit of King Leopold II. Emigration from European countries was assuming alarming proportions, and the European governments became anxious to keep this moving population under their own flags and their own control. Leopold, notwithstanding criticism, asserted that he founded the Congo Free State in the interests of civilization and the good of Belgium. He abolished the slave trade, prohibited the sale of liquor and started work on the cure for sleeping sickness. Mrs. Courtright's paper was very interesting throughout.

The topic, the Exploitation of Africa, was discussed by Mrs. Charles T. Gilmore in a paper brimming over with most interesting facts in regard to the topography, products and people of the large area that France controls in the dark continent. Mrs. Gilmore took up her topic under separate heads, as "West Africa," "Tangier," "Morocco," etc., the whole forming a very complete compendium of the natural resources and products of the French colonies. The character of the people of Morocco was well demonstrated by an amusing proverb which runs thus: "It is better to walk than run; better to stand still than walk; better to lie down than to stand; better to close the eyes than to keep them open." Therefore the Moroccans acting upon this popular old saying, are never in a hurry.

Mrs. Charles May followed with a paper filled with information as to Germany's territorial expansion in Africa, which adhered closely to Germany's general plan for acquisition of territory. We find that in 1910 the German Empire had four pieces of land in Africa; she proposed to begin a conquest of those territories which separated her fragments, in order to form some day that Central German Africa of a single piece, that Middle Africa which was to be the monstrous counterpart of Middle Europe. To one not acquainted with the policy of Germany Mrs. May's paper would come as an eye opener, and to those familiar with the subject it would serve as a forceful reminder of some points which they might otherwise have forgotten. She brought out very clearly that with the German Empire it was "Grab when you can and where you can," and also that each of her colonies was, in fact, a little Prussia.

The business meeting which followed the program, with the president, Mrs. Ritz, again in the chair, was devoted to various club activities, among them being the conservation of the natural resources of our state. Among the other points to which the club's attention was called was the following:

Outdoor Good Manners.

Mrs. Francis Whitley, chairman of forestry, is conducting a national campaign of outdoor etiquette. She would teach the public that it is just as much a breach of good manners to destroy a lot owner's flowers, shrubbery and trees or in any way destroy his properties, or leave a dirty camp or a smoldering fire, as it is to enter a friend's home and do the same. We must remember that whenever we step onto a private ground we are guests and should conduct ourselves as such. Please carry this thought into your communities by means of word of mouth, placards, signs, etc.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

A number of the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Goeller gathered at their home Tuesday evening and celebrated the thirty-sixth birthday anniversary of Mrs. Goeller. The affair was in the nature of a surprise.

Mrs. G. R. Gardiner entertained the Sewing club with a luncheon at her home in Ashville today.

A group of men from the Central Ohio Paper Co., touring their way to Florida, stopped in Circleville and entertained the Ferris Stationery Co., and the following guests with a 11 o'clock dinner at the New American hotel Thursday: Mr. Herbert Thorpe, Mr. Charles Rason, Mr. Kenneth Woods, Mr. William Walker and Mr. Fred Rice of the Central Ohio Paper Co., Miss Friel and Mr. Joe Black of the Central Tablet Manufacturing Co., Mr. Simon Topolosky of the Circleville Fruit Co., Mr. Max Friedman of Circleville; Mr. Abe Suwalsky, manager of the Ferris Stationery Co., Miss Inez Topolosky and Katherine Hegele of Circleville and Miss Mildred Grimes of Columbus.

Children and Careers

"Children are not a handicap but an urge—that is, if a woman has a fair share of the maternal instinct, which I think most women have. Out of my own experience I can sincerely say that to my daughters I owe whatever of success I have had. Indeed they kept me from being a complete failure. And this has been so from the first day I stepped out from a sheltered home to earn my own living and theirs as well.—Genevieve Parkhurst, in Hearsy's International-Cosmopolitan.

x HARTMAN THEATER. x x x x x x x x x

The inimitable Duncan Sisters, those incomparable comedienne who have swept the country with a gale of laughter in their whimsical musical version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which they call "Topsy and Eva" will be the attraction at the Hartman theater Columbus, for the entire week beginning next Monday, December 14.

They come after long runs in New York, Boston and sixty weeks in Chicago. Their vehicle was written for them by Catherine Chisholm Cushing, the songs composed by the Duncan sisters and sung with a charm and vivacity that is unique in the history of the Hartman theater.

The beautiful and gifted Duncan girls have surrounded themselves with beauty and melodious voices to form a background for their entertaining gymhana. With them are show girls of exceptional voice and statuesque beauty, a program of specialty entertainers and Tiller's famous London Palace theater girls, who as steppers in get-ups reminiscent of our old time plantation pickaninies, are one of the fastest and most intriguing dance numbers before the footlights today.

"Topsy and Eva" is a clean, wholesome show, beloved of young and old. In it the Duncan sisters have made the old time pathetic story of Topsy and Eva a modern, exquisite and harmonious tale of fun, frolic and just a touch of tenderness here and there and lots of laughs.

Prominent players who will be seen in support of the Duncan Sisters are Vernon Rickard, Antionette Boots, William Gordon, Edmund Fitzpatrick, Hal Sands, Myrtle Ferguson, Helen Reed, Dan Brennan, Bert Keyes, Jessie Bell, Isabel Kohn and Marguerite Bell.

The usual Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be given.

AMUSEMENTS

There is a remarkably well balanced bill at the Met theater headed by Elinor Glyn's production, "The Only Thing," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

There was a time when only one thing mattered in the making of pictures. That was grinding a certain number of them out each week. Now that we are educated up to pictures we have reached the critical stage where five things are poignant; the cast, the story, direction, photography and sets. "The Only Thing" registered one hundred per cent in all five.

The story is one of Elinor Glyn's best and was written by her directly for the screen. It has all the elements necessary to a good screen play. Deeply emotional scenes quickly followed by subtle comedy touches. Balancing all the way like a tree in the springtime.

Portrayals Flawless.

The cast is headed by Eleanor Boardman and Conrad Nagel. They were perfectly chosen and Miss Boardman as the princess is beautiful and proves her right to be called one of the greatest dramatic actresses on the screen. There is a grace and charm and dignity about her that gives a realness to this role.

Jack Conway has turned out a masterpiece in direction and Chester Lyon's photography will not soon be forgotten. The lights and shades are played with by a master craftsman and Lyons has indelibly registered. Cedric Gibbons' sets are unusual and massive and bring something new in this line to the screen.

HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From Wires By Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

(United Press)
Cleveland — The grand champion Hereford steer, exhibited by Raymond Leffler, Clarksville, Indiana, brought the highest price ever paid for beef on the hoof when it was sold at auction here Thursday for $3.05 per pound. The animal weighs 1,310 pounds and was bought by the Hughes Provision company of Cleveland. The price beats that paid at the International Live Stock Show at five cents a pound.

Dayton—There will be speedy action in the cases of Russell Swihart, 24 and Paul Defendorfer, 16, who yesterday held up the Farmers bank at Trotwood for $1,248. They were arrested in Dayton forty minutes after the robbery and confessed, Swihart admitting that he engineered the robbery. Only $447 was recovered. The boys say the police got all they had and seemingly cannot account for the missing money.
A grand jury will be called into session Monday to pass on the cases.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETING

A report from the membership committee of the local post of the American Legion at the regular meeting last evening was submitted and as returns from all the men has not been made, and the report not complete, the legion feels quite proud of the fact that twenty-eight paid up memberships had been received by those reporting, for the coming year. This drive by the legion is nationwide as the new commander of the legion has particularly expressed his desire for it. Karl Hermann is in charge of one group and Adjutant William Cady of the other and the side bringing in the most paid up members to the Legion by the first of the year will be treated to a dinner at the expense of the losing side.
Christian Schwarz, as chairman of the committee in charge of the Community Christmas Tree reports very favorable returns have been received by the solicitors and that the affair this year will be as successful as it has been in the past. Edward Ebert, Lawrence Johnson and George Mast are the other members of this committee.
In order to induce the school children of the county to compete in the National Essay Contest which is sponsored by the American Legion, the local post has appointed a committee composed of Mack Parrett, chairman, Karl Hermann and John Bolender to visit the school superintendents for this purpose and have also offered three prizes in the sum of $30 to be given to the three writers of the best essays within the county. The committee reported having visited both the city and county superintendents and have their hearty support in this matter. The National prizes are of the amounts of $750, $500 and $250.

A GOOD GAME WAS LOST BY SINGLE SCORE

Rochester Clothiers Defeated Circleville Athletic Team at The Gym.

Oh, Boy! What a game was the general remark heard after the game Thursday night at the C. A. C. gym when the Rochester Clothiers nosed out the locals by one point.

It was one of these games that kept the fans on the edge of their seats thruout. One thrill followed the other and it was anybody's game until the last whistle and time alone told the story as the score shifted every minute first one team than the other being in the lead.

At the end of the first half the score stood 13 to 11 favoring the club boys. For some unaccountable reason the club's defense weakened slightly in the early minutes of the second frame allowing the visitors a small lead which the boys found impossible to overcome. It was a very interesting game and we will have to give the club boys the edge on the floor game even tho they lost by one point.

Next Thursday the opponents will be the Reichenbach Ford's another fast Columbus team which will give us a run for our money.

Got Change, All Right

A wealthy business man went to a rough camp for his summer vacation. The cooking was bad, the beds were bad, the insects were very bad. Upon his return he sat on the veranda of his palatial mansion enjoying a lake breeze and communed with himself after this fashion: "You go away for a change, and I'll say this—you never fail to get it."
